Production Cost Key To Argument On Beef Rollback

Cattlemen Edgy over Confusion In Price Control Program—Most Say OPS Plan Will Ruin Them

(EDITOR'S NOTE: To get the grass-roots story of the beef price control dispute—and the possible effects of controls on cattle production—the Associated Press sent a special correspondent into the southwest and mid-west cattle country to talk to cattlemen, buyers, feeders and slaughterers on the spot. Here is his story).

By DON WHITEHEAD

FORT WORTH, Tex., June 27—(AP)—The bitter argument between cattlemen and the administration over beef price controls revolves around the issue: How much does it cost to raise a calf in Texas?

Oddly enough, it's a complex question. Every grower has his own answer to what it costs him. And there seems to be as many answers as there are cattle in this state which produces one-tenth of all the cattle grown in the United States.

But it's the key question in all the fuss. The right answer may decide whether cattlemen increase production—or whether beef production falls off in the future and steaks become even a rarer commodity than they have been.

There is no shortage of beef-on-the-hoof in this country. The cattle census shows more cattle on the range, on farms and in feed lots than a year ago. Breeder herds are bigger, which means more cattle in the future if there is a profit in the business.

A cattleman is the producer and grower of beef -- the rancher. He usually sells to feeders who then fatten the cattle -- mostly in the mid-west -- for future sale to the slaughterer.

Complicated Process

In this complicated process of moving a beef calf from ranch to feeder to slaughterer to wholesaler to retailer to the dinner table -- the housewife is paying prices for beef that the government and the housewife say are too high.

Last January, the Office of Price Stabilization slapped a ceiling on wholesale and retail beef prices to hold the upward swing of costs. Then in May a 10 percent rollback in live cattle prices went into effect. Two other rollbacks of 4 1/2 percent each are slated for August 1 and October 1, unless Congress stops them.

These two last rollbacks are the ones which would reduce the butcher shop price for the housewife. The OPS figures a round steak that costs $1.15 in February would cost $1 after the October (Please turn to Page Five)

Last week Ron Guinn and Harry Townsend, city recreation directors, broke two records following a couple of softball games at Wilson Field.

Unfortunately they had little to do with athletics. They were the musical variety, and there was a discordant note to the whole thing. Here's the way the story went.

Following the evening's games, Guinn and Townsend packed up the public address system at the field and got ready to go home.

One of the men placed a couple of record albums on one of the fenders of the car. The men took off and had successfully negotiated a rough stretch of the street and had crossed a couple of railroad tracks before Townsend noticed the albums still on the fender of the car.

He hurriedly told Guinn to stop the car, which Guinn did—but with such a sudden movement that the albums of records slid off their precarious perch and hit the pavement. Two of the records were shattered.

One of the Record-Herald's alumni, Robert Cooney, who was graduated from Antioch College Saturday, has joined the State Department and will work in the international press section.

Cooney visited the Record-Herald last week and discussed his new job. He said he would help handle the preparation of State Department news releases for newspapers all over the world.

Recently the Federal Bureau of Investigation gave him a clean bill when they checked his background to determine whether he was a security risk. Such check-ups are routine for persons being hired by the federal government now.

He reported on another recent Antioch alumnus who worked for the Record-Herald a year or so ago and who has since made a trip to Europe and gone to work in his chosen profession, writing. Cooney was talking about Kenny Young. Kenny has gone to work for the CIO in Washington, D. C., turning out news releases.

Meanwhile, another Record-Herald alumni from Antioch, Jack Eisen, has gone for work in an opposite end of the nation—on a newspaper in San Rafael, Calif., across the bay from San Francisco.

British Leaving Iran Oil Fields

Hands-off Policy Is Voiced for U. S.

ABADAN, Iran, June 27—(AP)—The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company today started calling its British staff from the oil fields in readiness to fly them out of Iran.

The last plane loads of women and children left for their British homes this morning.

Unless a last minute compromise is reached, an emergency evacuation of British employees themselves will mark the beginning of the end of the billion dollar oil empire Britain built over the last 50 years in this southern desert land. Barring some unforeseen development, word is expected from London within the next few hours to go ahead with "operation exodus".

U. S. KEEPING OUT

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today there is "no thought" of United States intervention in the Iranian oil crisis.

Appearing before the House foreign affairs committee, Acheson said however, "we cannot exaggerate the critical nature of the situation and we cannot exaggerate the importance of its solution."

Rep. Fulton (D-Pa.) called Acheson's attention to the United States taking military action in Korea without a congressional declaration.

"There is no thought of the United States intervening in Iran either with or without congressional action," Acheson replied.

2 Policemen Shot To Commit Suicide

INDIANAPOLIS, June 27—(AP)—A man who told his wife, "I'm going to shoot me a couple of policemen so they'll kill me," carried out his threat and got what he asked for last night.

He dropped two officers with shotgun blasts at short range and then fell dead as three other policemen riddled him with shotgun slugs and rifle bullets. One of his victims died a half hour later.

Inspector Ralph Bader, identified the dead gunman as John Hoard, 27, a Negro. Patrolman Clarence G. Snorden, 29, died of a wound in General Hospital, and Patrolman Thomas H. Williams, 39, was reported in critical condition.

Bader said Hoard's wife, Mary, 35, told him she and her husband had quarreled before he made his threat, and he had been drinking heavily.

Flynn in Hospital

NEW YORK, June 27—(AP)—Edward J. Flynn, Bronx Democratic chief for 30 years and a long-time power in national party circles, was in a hospital today suffering from a heart ailment.

Uncle Sam To Sell Oil Rights To People who Bought Farms

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—People who bought farms from the government soon will be able to buy up any mineral rights—which the government had reserved—on such land, Senator Young (R-ND) said today.

This is particularly important, Young told a reporter, to farmers in certain areas of North Dakota where oil has been discovered.

Back in the depression 30's, the Federal Land Bank, acting as agent for the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation, took over some 35,000 farms or tracts of land in the country.

In reselling them later the government reserved the mineral rights, in whole or in part, on 16,279 tracts.

Goofy Days Here Again

In Phoenix

In Chester, Pa.

IT'S SUMMER and that strange malady of staunch baseball backers—flagpole sitting—is with us again. For example, Bob Burger, a rabid Philadelphia Phillies' fan, took to a six-foot cage atop a store in Chester, Pa., June 8, vowing he'd stay up there until the Phillies get into first place. And many miles west of Chester, in Phoenix, Ariz., Ray Vetter, who bills himself as the world's first "cactus sitter," has taken to a plush perch in the Phoenix ball park, hoping to increase home attendance. Kansas Swept by Tornado

Although Fayette County and Washington C. H. were doused with a heavy rain and whipped by a strong wind early Wednesday, they were spared the worst wrath of the violent wind, rain and electrical storms that swept many sections of the state.

The rain varied in different sections of the county. In Washington C. H., the gauge of Coyt Stuckey, the government weather observer here, registered .68 of an inch. In some sections of the county, the rain was much heavier. Farm work was brought to a standstill here. In many sections the fields were so soaked that farmers won't be able to get into the fields for two or three days to cultivate corn even if there is no more rain.

The storm here was accompanied by flashes of lightning and the constant rumble of thunder, but for the most part it was at considerable distance from the city.

Rent Control Near End Here Now, Is Indication

Price, wage, credit and rent controls will expire in Washington C. H. at midnight Saturday unless Congress extends the controls.

City Manager Winston W. Hill said Wednesday that he did not anticipate any action by city council to extend rent controls in Washington C. H. council is to meet tonight (Wednesday).

Hill said the council has had no requests to extend the rent controls, and even if they did, it is a legal question whether they can or not.

And if council could extend controls he indicated that the administrative cost of handling rent control here would be prohibitive.

The U. S. Senate started voting today (Wednesday) on a bill to extend price, wage, rent and credit controls under a time limitation which might bring final passage tonight.

The House also is scheduled to begin floor consideration of a new controls bill, but administration leaders there were much less confident of passage this week.

The present price-wage-rent control authority (Defense Production Act) expires Saturday midnight unless some extension act is passed by Congress and signed by the president before then.

Some House Democratic leaders said privately it would be impossible to get the complex extension measure through that body this week. So far they have not scheduled night sessions or a Saturday meeting.

Gene Smith, who is the rent control representative for Washington C. H., said there was one time a few years ago when rent control expired for a 30-day period.

Smith said, except for this brief period, rent control has been in effect here since 1942.

Slaughter Quotas For Cattle Raised

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—With the aim of getting more beef on American tables, the government today raised July cattle slaughter quotas 10 percent above those for June. It cut hog quotas about 10 percent.

The quotas are the number of animals meat packers are allowed to kill. They are based on estimated marketings and are designed to insure fair distribution of meat.

The Office of Price Stabilization told slaughterers they could kill in July 90 percent of the live weight of cattle they killed in June last year. This compares with 80 percent for civilian consumption during the present month of June.

Reds Shifting War Tactics

Allies Express Confidence New Attack Can Be Stopped

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO, June 27—(AP)—Reds began pulling out of one buildup area in Korea today but poured fresh men and supplies into another center for a new try at cracking Allied lines. United Nations officers were not worried.

"They can hit us anywhere, at any time, in any strength," a UN briefing officer said.

Other officers predicted Chinese Reds would strike in the second week of July—probably down the Uijongbu-Seoul invasion corridor.

There was no change in the repeatedly expressed Allied attitude that UN ground forces can handle anything the Chinese could throw at them. Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. N. ground commander, has reiterated this time and again since the Reds two spring offensives were shattered and has openly invited the Chinese to try again.

Strong Communist screening forces Wednesday blocked Allied patrols probing toward four Communist buildup areas.

Buildup Defense Line

Chinese dug in even on the flat lands south of Pyongyang to protect their major buildup, north of the former iron triangle. This is the area into which Chinese commanders were reported pouring new men and materials.

East of the iron triangle, Reds began hauling out of a secondary buildup near Kumsong. A four-mile advance Tuesday endangered the Reds' Kumsong area.

Machineguns, mortars and artillery opened up on Allies trying to approach the other two buildup points, near Inje in the east and Yonchon in the west.

Fighting was vicious, but on a small scale.

Fifth Air Force pilots supporting ground troops with fire bombs and rockets reported they killed or wounded about 600 Reds. Most of the casualties were inflicted in the Kumsong area by two F-51 Mustang strikes.

The Red Air Fleet "may be thrown fully into the battle" at any moment, U. S. Air Secretary Thomas Finletter said in Washington Tuesday. The secretary, recently returned from a visit to the Korean war front, said the Chinese have 1,000 war planes compared with only 200 last October.

The entire Chinese force, he said, is in Manchuria ready for quick use in Korea.

American jets patrol the border alert for a possible air invasion which might endanger UN air supremacy. They shot down one Red jet and damaged another Tuesday.

One U. S. F-80 Shooting Star was shot down by ground fire while strafing Red troops.

Allied night raiders hammered Communist supply lines. Maj. Gen. Frank F. Everest, Fifth Air Force commander, said they stopped several large truck convoys and forced others to turn off onto secondary routes.

Cease-fire talk received rebuffs from both South Koreans and Chinese.

The Republic of Korea legislature decided to send a message to all United Nations with fighting forces on the peninsula opposing an armistice such as suggested by Jacob Malik, Russian UN delegate.

Addicts Tell Stories

Testimony was received yesterday from five addicts, only one of whom consented to have his face televised.

They told how victims of the drug habit are driven into crime and prostitution in their desperate need for money to satisfy their craving for dope. Officials warned that use of drugs among teenagers is becoming epidemic.

Washington, June 27—(AP)—Farm income is running 20 percent greater than a year ago, the agriculture department reported today.

The agency said, however, this increase is being offset in part by a 13 percent increase in cost of goods and services farmers buy for family living and farm production.

Village Council Swallows Pride

Peach Fork 'Divines' Water for Town

LOGAN, June 27—(AP)—Mayor Lew McClelland of Laurelville (population 491) never did believe in this business of finding water by the "divining" method.

He does now.

Laurelville has needed a central water system for years. At present residents draw water by hand or mechanical pumps from wells in their yards.

The council, under McClelland's leadership, voted to drill a test well on village-owned property.

But one village resident, Charley Strous, took a dim view of the proceedings.

"You'll never find water there, boys," he said.

An experienced water "diviner" who uses a peach tree fork to point to likely well sites, Strous has found many wells for people in his neighborhood. Seldom misses, either.

His advice was ignored by the village. Then, all the test well brought up was dust.

The mayor and the council swallowed their pride and called in Charley, who started working with his peach fork. He reached a spot 225 feet from the dry hole, and onlookers said the twig in his hand dipped sharply.

"There she is, boys," Charley said.

Mayor McClelland tried the stick and was convinced. "The stick was pulled down so hard in my hand the bark was twisted off," he said.

Now the new test well, dripped on the spot, is down to the 24-foot level and indications of water have been found. "We got nothing but dust from the other hole," McClelland commented.

Strous was not surprised. He knew water was there all the time.

U. S. Policy Tip Given--Soviet Reply in Offing

Congress Suspicious And Moves Slowly; GOP Is Critical

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today the best guarantee for U. S. acceptance of a Korean cease-fire would be withdrawal of Chinese Communist troops beyond the Yalu River.

Acheson proposed a "phased withdrawal" of all foreign troops in Korea after an armistice.

In the event of such a settlement, he declared, there would have to be a full realization that its violation "would be a very dangerous step and would endanger world peace."

Returning before the House foreign affairs committee for a second day of questioning in connection with the administration's $8,500,000,000 foreign aid program, Acheson hinted that some clarification of Soviet purposes might be forthcoming today.

"Decisions have been made" on what to do about Russia's informal suggestion that a way might be found to halt the fighting in Korea.

That was the word from a state department spokesman as representatives of 16 United Nations arranged a Korea strategy meeting today. The course decided on was not disclosed.

India may join in.

The 16 are the countries which have troops with the UN forces in Korea. Their customary semi-weekly meeting was transformed from a routine session by the proposal to negotiate an end of the fighting put forward Saturday by Russia's Jacob A. Malik.

CLARIFICATION SOUGHT

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 27—(AP)—The west pressed Moscow today to spell out what Jacob A. Malik meant by the Russian proposal for a Korean cease-fire.

Acting on Washington's instruction, U. S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk called on Andrei Gromyko, deputy Soviet foreign minister in Moscow. They talked for 20 minutes, and Moscow dispatches said clarification of Malik's suggestions was expected by the end of this week.

Secretary of State Acheson said the United States had not learned the intentions behind the Malik proposal, "but we hope today will bring further light." At the time he made this comment in Washington, Acheson evidently had not received Kirk's report on his meeting with Gromyko.

Malik, Soviet delegate to the United Nations, proposed Saturday that the belligerents in Korea open talks about a cease-fire coupled with mutual withdrawal of forces from the 38th Parallel. The west wanted to know, among other things, what "belligerents" the Soviet Union considered to be involved, and what guarantees would be given against reopening of the fighting if a truce were declared.

UN Secretary General Trygve Lie returned to New York from Norway reiterating he is "always hopeful." He called his UN aides into conference, and planned later to see Nasrallah Entezam, or Iran, president of the general assembly.

There was no indication here that Entezam had been able to see Malik, who has been reported ill since Saturday.

The U. S. delegation also was silent on whether Ernest A. Gorris, U. S. ambassador to the UN, had been in contact with the Russians.

Both Gross and Ambassador Kirk in Moscow were instructed by the state department Monday night to seek clarification of the Russian proposal.

CONGRESS SUSPICIOUS

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—Congress reacted warily today to Secretary of State Acheson's statement that a cease-fire on the 38th Parallel in Korea could be viewed as a "successful conclusion" to the fighting there.

For the most part, Republicans criticized ending the Korean conflict on the 38th Parallel. Democratic reaction was more mixed. The 38th Parallel was the dividing line between North -- Communist -- Korea and South Korea before the North Korean attack a year ago set off the present battle between United Nations forces and Communist armies from China and North Korea.

As "peace" talk mounted, Acheson returned to Capitol Hill for another round of questioning by the House foreign affairs committee.

Man Found Dead In Home Here

Autopsy Held on Freshour Body

William E. Freshour, 45, was found dead at the home of his step daughter at 420 Grove Avenue Tuesday. He is believed to have died about 5:45 P. M. Tuesday.

He was in an auto-truck accident April 23 and had been in a veterans hospital until Monday, when he returned here.

An autopsy was held on his body in the Gerstner Funeral Home Wednesday morning by Dr. Joseph M. Herbert.

Dr. Herbert found that there was "no evidence of foul play" and that his death was not due to an "unnatural cause." At the autopsy were John Bath, assistant prosecutor, and Police Chief Valden Long.

Mr. Freshour was a member of the Good Hope Methodist Church, the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Moose and Eagles lodges and served in the army in Europe for two years.

He leaves his father James of Washington C. H.; two daughters, Mrs. June B. Bridenore of Springfield and Miss Ivelene Freshour of Greenfield; one brother, Sidney Freshour of Detroit and two sisters, Mrs. William Spurgeon of Washington C. H. and Mrs. Nora Allison of Vicksburg, Miss.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 A. M. Saturday at the Gerstner Funeral Home, with Rev. Allen Caley, pastor of the Grace Methodist Church, in charge.

Burial will be made in the family lot of the Good Hope Cemetery. Friends may call at anytime.

TORNADO IN KANSAS

(By The Associated Press)
Three persons were killed and an estimated 50 injured today in a tornado which struck a residential area of Wakeeney, a town of 2,000 in western Kansas. Many homes were leveled, trees uprooted and power and communication lines toppled by the twister.

Winds and heavy rain swept across areas in western and central Kansas last night and early today. Thousands of acres of farm-lands in Kansas already are flooded from more than a month of heavy rains. Damage to crops has been estimated at $22,000,000.

Thunderstorms over the plains states headed eastward today. Scattered showers and thunderstorms also were reported in the Appalachians and eastern Great Lakes region and in parts of central Illinois and Indiana.

Hot and humid weather continued in the gulf northward to the Appalachians and extreme southern Great Lakes area. But a mass

Narcotics Hearing

Asked if the committee had subpoenaed any dope peddlers or smugglers or others involved in the sale and distribution of narcotics, O'Connor said it is extremely difficult to track down these sources of supply.

He said addicts, in previous closed sessions with the committee, have refused to name peddlers. "They say they want to live, that they fear for their lives," he said. Two addicts told the committee in yesterday's hearing that a "hot shot"—poisoned drugs—is apt to be the informer's fate.

Denny Eugene Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fuller Merritt, 225 North Hinde Street, was released from Memorial Hospital Tuesday and taken to his home. The baby, born prematurely, weighed three pounds four ounces at birth and now weighs five pounds.

Anna Mae, 53-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Ferguson 1017 Willard Street, one of triplets born in Memorial Hospital, was released Tuesday and returned to her home. Her weight at birth was two pounds eleven ounces and she now weighs four pounds fifteen and one half ounces.

Willie E. Bentley was taken from the home of his niece, Mrs. Eldon Long, in Jeffersonville in the Alvin G. Little ambulance to the office of Dr. H. W. Payton for emergency treatment Tuesday afternoon following a fall from a ladder at the Long home. He later was brought to Memorial Hospital and treated for a broken collar bone.

Mal D. Hall, 7629 Castleton Place, Cincinnati, is reported as being seriously ill at his home following a stroke suffered a few days ago. Mr. Hall who is also suffering from a heart condition is at his home. He is a former resident of this city and has been associated with the Endicott Johnson Shoe Company of New York for the past several years.

Airmen Apprentice Robert Seblom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Seblom of the Jeffersonville Road, who took his basic training at the Great Lakes Naval Base, has now finished his schooling in Navy Aviation Technical Training Center at Memphis, Tenn., and has been transferred to Corpus Christi, Texas, where he will spend the next two years in an airplane mechanic's course.

Mrs. Blanche Rodgers recently received a newspaper clipping from her sister, Mrs. Harland O. Tidd, telling of the graduation of Harmon Tidd, her son, from Western Reserve University School of Medicine.

Following his graduation, Tidd was commissioned a first lieutenant in the Army.

Mrs. Tidd is the former Gertrude Campbell, who lived near Madison Mills a number of years ago.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. David R. Roe, 1226 East Temple Street, are the parents of a son weighing six pounds fourteen and one-half ounces born in Memorial Hospital at 10:47 A. M. Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyer of Beckley, West Va., are announcing the birth of an eight pound son, David Addison, in the Beckley Hospital Tuesday morning.

Mr. Hyer was formerly assistant manager of the G. C. Murphy Co. here and is now first assistant to the manager of the G. C. Murphy Co. in Beckley. Mrs. Loren Bowler, maternal grandmother formerly of Mt. Sterling, resides with the Hyers, paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Chan D. Hyer of West Temple Street in this city.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, June 27.—(P)—The grain market drew a little inspiration from weather developments today, while awaiting some concrete news relating to cease-fire prospects in Korea.

The weather was wet, and that was a reason for buying both wheat and feed grains.

In the corn belt, rain was preventing producers from cultivating fields. Wheat, corn and oats advanced more than a cent at times in moderately active trading.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—This is a sketch -- but only a sketch, since some of the tactics can't be mentioned -- of how this country spreads American propaganda abroad and makes psychological war on Russia.

During World War II the army carried propaganda-psychological teams right along with the combat troops. When the army captured a territory, those teams went to work.

For instance, in Germany: they took over the radio stations, the newspapers, and other means of information and had the job of changing even the school textbooks into which the Nazis had jammed their own propaganda.

The other two big wartime propaganda-psychological outfits were the OWI -- Office of War Information, and the OSS -- Office of Strategic Services, which worked behind the enemy lines. The latter two folded after the war.

In Japan the army still carried on the propaganda job. But in Germany and elsewhere the state department has taken over this work. And now there are two other main agencies working in this field: the ECA -- Economic Cooperation Administration, which handles the Marshall plan; and the CIA -- The Central Intelligence Agency.

(The CIA, something like the old wartime OSS, has the job of getting information from behind the iron curtain. It's a super-secret outfit and whatever it does it pretty much keeps to itself).

This sketch will stick to what the state department is doing.

1. Libraries. It has libraries all over the world into which it feeds pro-American information, plus other material like methods for controlling malaria.

The state department still has been able to keep its libraries in Communist Czechoslovakia and Hungary. In one of these libraries in Latin America a native can go in and enjoy himself. In Czechoslovakia and Hungary it's worth a native's life to be seen going in.

2. Bulletins. To 160 missions around the world the department sends out nearly 10,000 words by wireless. These bulletins contain world news. They're distributed to government agencies, newspapers, and anyone who wants them.

3. Broadcasts. The department's "Voice of America" broadcasts daily in 45 languages from New York, with relay stations in Munich, Tangier, Manila and other places. These broadcasts contain news, features, comments on world affairs by the department's own people.

4. Films. These are news pictures and documentaries. For example, a Walt Disney cartoon showing how to fight malaria, or a roundup of pictures of General Eisenhower, or the events leading up to the Korean war.

They're shown where they can be shown. In Russia, they can be seen only in the American embassy. In western Europe they're shown in town squares. In Latin America they may be shown in the schools.

5. Exchange of people. This country exchanges students and experts with other countries to learn one another's ways. This year 1,641 American students went to other countries for a year and 4,984 students came here. This government pays the costs.

But the problems of this propaganda-psychological campaign are never ending since army, state, CIA and ECA continually are studying things like these:

1. How better to get the stuff through to other countries, particularly behind the iron curtain, whether by orthodox or unorthodox methods. For instance, using private mails and putting radio transmitters on ships.

2. Training Americans for this work, particularly army and navy officers, who may be assigned to the state department for a year or study.

3. Evaluating the work being done. That is, trying to figure out how well the stuff is getting across and what effect it's having. For example, the effect would be

Warren County Museum To Open For Pilgrimage June 30, July 1

Many residents of this community will be interested in the fifth annual pilgrimage sponsored by the Warren County Historical Society at Lebanon. It is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, June 30 and July 1.

This event is of considerable importance to everyone interested in history, antiques and old homes filled with things of yesteryears.

Pilgrimage headquarters will be located at "Glendower," the Warren County Museum, located three or four blocks south of the town hall in Lebanon.

Several houses not previously shown will be opened for the pilgrimage visitors this year. Among them is the home of Arthur Hamilton, newly elected president of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, and daughter, Jean, will have assistant hostesses from the Ohio State Museum at Columbus. The hostesses will be gowned in authentic frocks.

A special display of massive silver service from the Battleship Ohio will be featured. Pioneer Craft Show Set

Other houses in Lebanon include the Lamb home, with exceptionally fine early Ohio material and special collections of the Lambs, consisting of bisque, pattern glass and buttons.

The Gothic home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jackson will feature a collection of rare regional glass, consisting largely of sandwich and early Pittsburgh glass candlesticks and whale oil lamps.

One of the country houses shown will be Maple Lake Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Miller, which was built in 1811, and is a typical brick of that early period. Antique furnishings add much to the charm of this home.

Bransby Farm, century old country home of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Phillips, will also be open. Functional antiques are attractively presented in this colonial home.

A special feature of the pilgrimage this year will be a pioneer craft show, spinning, weaving, knitting, quilting, candle making, soap making, chair seating, churning and other household chores will be demonstrated.

A number of other home are included in the list of homes which will be open for inspection.

New Officers Installed by Rotary Club

E. F. Moser To Be In President's Chair Starting July 1

Washington Rotarians were officially introduced to their new officers for the Rotary year beginning July 1, at Tuesday's club luncheon meeting at the Country Club. The entire session was given over to installation of new leaders for the next year's activities.

A brief but sincere expression of appreciation for help and cooperation from associate officers and other club members, was heard from William Himmelsbach outgoing president.

Before introducing the new president, E. F. Moser, the outgoing treasurer, Marlyn Riley, made a report on the club expenses and income of the past year, also a brief report was heard from the outgoing secretary, Dr. Stewart B. Smith, who stated that the present club enrollment of 87 members was a gain of five over the previous year. He also reported that attendance for the club year just ending was slightly over 93 percent, considered a good record.

Other Officers Presented

While occupying the president's chair briefly before beginning his new term, President-elect Moser took occasion to introduce the other new club officers and directors, vice-president, Marlyn Riley; secretary, Stephen Brown; treasurer, Howard Fogle; George Finley, director, vocational service activities; Paul Dougherty, director, community service activities; Joseph Peters, director, informational service activities; William Himmelsbach, immediate past-president, club service activities.

The new president called upon Dr. S. B. Smith to express the club's good will and appreciation to Himmelsbach, outgoing president and to present the president's plaque and past president's pin to him.

Moser in a brief talk to the club outlined a number of new meeting rules that would be followed the coming year and gave a good report on the Rotary International convention at Atlantic City, which he attended.

New Project Proposed

Among the most important of the new president's announcements was that the club here would be taking on a new project, providing a sum of money each year to aid underprivileged youth. He said that this would be made up from contributions of members every month.

Added to this will be a gift of a small sum from each member on the occasion of his birthday, and a penalty payment for unexcused absences of club members from meetings.

Announcement was made by the July program committee that on next meeting day, July 3, the directors of the club assisted by Colin Campbell will present a skit entitled "Introduction of new Rotarians."

Previous to the regular program birthday greetings were sung for Ralph Penn, Frank Baker and Carroll Halliday.

Stassen To Make Bid For Presidency, Claim

ST. LOUIS, June 27—(AP)—Radio station KXOK reported today Harold Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, will be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952.

Bruce Barrington, the station's news director, reported in a copy-righted story the decision was made at a hush-hush meeting held last weekend in Clarksboro, N. J.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police Force was organized in 1873 as the North West Mounted Police. The name was changed in 1904.

Teenagers Killed In Speed Crash

TROY, June 27—(AP)—Two teenagers were killed and three others injured, one critically, late last night when their automobile failed to make a curve on Route 70, struck a light pole and rolled over several times.

The state highway patrol quoted the survivors as saying the car was traveling "in excess of 100 miles per hour."

The dead are: Robert Paul Lee, 17, of Route 1, Urbana, the driver, and Clyde Samples, 13, of Troy.

The highway patrol said the vehicle hit a guard rail with such force the rail pierced the radiator and went through the length of the car and out the back.

Plaster of Paris received its name because it was first manufactured in the neighborhood of the French capital.

Will Propaganda Win over Common Sense?

It seems probable that all of us here in Fayette County, directly or indirectly, are to be affected by government controls more drastic than those at present. Most other people in the country also will feel these effects.

President Truman is demanding that he be given more power in such controls. One of his department heads has gone so far as to intimate that there should be government licensing of business so that any violators can be penalized by having their business places closed down. It is unlikely that Congress will go this far because everyone must recognize that in such a proposition government control would mean complete dictatorship and a long step into socialism.

That economic controls in some form would be continued has not been doubted by most people. So far Congress has made a fight to make these controls lighter than the administration desires.

With huge government spending in the next few months the predicted shortage of civilian goods may develop. There will be demands for higher and higher wages and, with election time approaching, the politicians will not be enthusiastic about putting the same clamp on wages that they talk of putting on prices. They will try to get around price control, probably with more subsidies at the taxpayer's expense.

This, of course, is the political approach to the problem of inflation. This political approach, with ceilings over prices and a shaky roof or none at all over costs, raises the specter of future subsidy payments. The controlled merchant and manufacturer will need government aid to prevent bankruptcy. The taxpayers will have to put up the money.

So it will again be recommended that the government dip into the treasury to keep the political ball rolling. Higher taxes now called for, which will minimize or wipe out wage increases, will result in a higher cost of living. But the propaganda maneuvering is expected to fool many voters.

Only a government can start inflation and only a government can stop it. It is started by creating too much money and credit and it is stopped by lessening the creation of money and credit. The politicians, however drag red herrings across the trail by blaming the inflationary spiral on somebody else. And so the country goes merrily on its way chasing delusions.

Rainmakers Quit

Stories of rainmakers signing up farmers in vast areas of the West in enterprises to loosen the clouds scientifically have disappeared from the press. Sometime ago these undertakings were being launched in a dozen states.

The reason? Too much rain. Before the modern-day rainmakers could get started, the deluge began. Kansas became a quagmire. Many states in the former dust bowl have worried about mud instead of drought.

A Good Idea

"Some of these days most of the . . . people of this fair country are going to get good and tired of having someone sitting in a swivel chair warming the seat of his pants in Washington, thinking up schemes to make more useless paper work for them, and will dump the whole lot of them into the nearby Potomac River and start over with a clean slate."—Knoxville, Iowa, Express.

Here's Tip on How To Keep Cool

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK —(P)— How to beat the heat?

That is again becoming the nation's number one problem, as the dog days again roll toward us.

Every one collects a few rules of his own on how to be comfortable in hot weather. Today I'd like to pass on a few hints I've picked up over the years. Mostly they illustrate the power of mind over matter.

1. An elderly Republican I know, whenever a humid day comes, goes about muttering to himself, "keep cool with Coolidge." He says he doesn't recall when he first heard this simple, old-fashioned phrase, but it has worked like a charm for him for 25 years. It probably began as a local New England saying.

2. But don't carry imagination too far. During one bad heat wave a friend of mine insisted "it's all in your head." He came to work wearing a winter coat and vest. Never felt cooler, he said. The next day he arrived in an overcoat. The following day he arrived wearing galoshes, earmuffs and a heavy wool scarf.

The fourth day he came down with a bad case of frostbite.

3. Lose your temper as often as possible. Remember, "it ain't the heat -- it's the humidity."

4. Don't over-eat. The easiest way to do that now is to buy all the steak you can afford. You'll lose weight.

5. If you don't work in an air-conditioned office, change jobs. It takes moral courage to keep cool.

6. Avoid talking yourself but strike up conversations with your longest-winded friends. Any friendly breeze helps.

7. There's an old boy scout trick that sometimes helps. Line your hat with leaves. My favorite is the maple leaf, but elm or oak will do. Leave them in the office water cooler during the day and they'll be still fresh at quitting time. Some people like to soak them in jello at home overnight. That way your scalp doesn't have to stand the same old tired flavor every day.

8. The average beach today is like the average airport -- it is too far from where you live. Spend next Sunday lying in bed under a sun lamp. Put a conch shell next to your ear on the pillow, and have your wife throw sand and orange peels on you. That way you can hear the sea, and enjoy every pleasure of a quiet day at the beach.

9. The coolest places this time of year are bars, basements and Nova Scotia. Try to spend as much time as possible in a bar in a basement in Nova Scotia. It's the ideal answer.

10. Come home late for dinner four nights in a row. That'll put a feeling of cooling of coolness between you and your wife that will last until Christmas.

11. Evaporation causes cooling. Perspiration evaporates, but the trouble with that is most people have to get hot before they perspire. Try to evaporate without perspiring. It takes willpower. But concentrate. Tell yourself, "day by day in every way I'm perspiring less and less, and evaporating more and more. I don't know how I'm doing it, but I am."

12. In this respect, take a tip from your dog. He sticks out his tongue and pants, and the evaporation cools him. Try that yourself at the office. Stick out your tongue and start panting. Hard. You may not feel chilly all at once. But if the boss sees you he is sure to give you the afternoon off.

If no one of these dozen little rules seems to help you, try all twelve some day. They may't keep you cool. But they are guaranteed to keep you busy.

Chinese Lobby and Propaganda

By George Sokolsky

Three factors enter into the propaganda of any country within the United States:

1. The legitimate provision of information and propaganda. Such agencies are maintained in the United States by nearly all countries, probably the largest being the British.

American employees of such organizations are required by law to register as foreign agents. This list has heretofore always been a public document, available to anyone who cared to look at it. For some reason, not readily understood, this has now become a secret list, perhaps to protect Americans who voluntarily spend Washington lawyers.

2. The various organizations of their own time and money being pro or anti this or that. The country is full of them. As regards China, there are a number of associations in favor of Nationalist or Communist China. Some of these have been effective.

3. The clandestine efforts of foreign governments by diverse means to influence public opinion.

Early Circumcision Usually Advisable

By HERMANN N. BUNDESEN

Perhaps the only operation practiced both by semi-civilized tribes and the best-informed doctors is circumcision. Certainly, it is the oldest operation of which we have record, dating back long before scriptural times to at least 5000 years B.C. And still today it is considered so well worth while that most male babies are circumcised before leaving the hospital where they are born.

Of course, there are certain considerations which make it wise to postpone this procedure. For example, if the baby is premature or feeble, the operation should not be carried out until he is strong enough to withstand it. If the child shows signs of jaundice at birth, it is well to postpone circumcision, especially if there is some form of hemorrhagic disease present, since circumcision at such a time might prove disastrous.

Hemophilia, a condition in which there is a disturbance in the clotting mechanism of the blood, is another reason for postponing circumcision, and the infant should be tested to determine whether or not hemophilia is present before the operation is attempted.

In a listless baby who takes his feedings slowly, is very slow to gain weight, and cries out before wetting his diaper, circumcision may be an absolute necessity. In such infants, there is usually a constriction of the opening that permits urination. Sometimes these cases are neglected and this may result in permanent injury.

Recently, it has been stated that a person who has not been circumcised has a greater chance of developing cancer of the genital organs than the circumcised individual. In fact, cancer of the genital organs is almost non-existent in those who have been circumcised.

From a hygienic point of view, circumcision is important. Today, it is a simple procedure in the infant and does not involve extensive surgery or risk.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

H. W. B.: My husband had a double hernia operation, then he got the shingles. He received penicillin after the operation. Could this be the cause of the shingles?

Answer: There is no relation between his having received the penicillin and his having the shingles.

WHS Librarian
Resigns Position

Miss Eleanor Leiter
Goes to Lima School

School officials here today are faced with the problem of filling two vacancies on the high school faculty, one in junior high school and the other in the senior high school.

Miss Eleanor Leiter, who has been the high school librarian for the past six years, has just submitted her resignation.

Only about a week ago, Mark Schaeper, was promoted by the school board from his position of mathematics teacher for the seventh grade (junior high school) to principal of Central School.

Neither Miss Leiter's nor Schaeper's place has been filled.

Miss Leiter explained to Supt. Stephen Brown that she had accepted a similar position in the Lima city schools. Lima, she continued, is only about 20 miles from her hometown of Van Wert.

Miss Leiter, an alumnae of Miami University at Oxford, had been taking special postgraduate work to meet requirements for librarians at the University of Illinois when she came to Washington High School.

Those are the only vacancies in the teaching corps of the entire city school system just now, Supt. Brown said. He did not say whether other resignations were expected before school reconvenes next fall.

The latest addition to the high school faculty of 35 was Charles Koons. He was named to take the place of Ron Guinn, who resigned to accept a position of teacher-coach in Mt. Sterling High School. Koons will teach seventh grade science and be assistant football and basketball coach.

G. D. Baker Low Bidder
On Greene County Job

G. D. Baker of Washington C. H. was the low bidder on a resurfacing job in Greene County, covering 4.5 miles of U. S. Route 68 in Miami and Bath Townships and 4.39 miles of U. S. Route 42 in Cedarville Township. The estimate of the state job was $20,513, and the actual bid was $21,833.

The state highway department opened low bids on $1,345,806 worth of road maintenance projects. Estimates of the jobs totaled $1,645,352.

Ohio School Aid
Increase Possible

COLUMBUS, June 27—(P) —New figures put public schools in line today for $1,500,000 more than was estimated by the legislature when it passed a school bill on adjournment day, June 19.

The measure is awaiting action by Gov. Frank J. Lausche. He can sign it, use his veto or let it become law July 2 without his signature. The governor hasn't said what he will do.

State education department figures showed the measure will boost subsidies to schools another $26,500,000 in the two years starting July 1. That will give schools $208,500,000 for the period. They got $182,000,000 for the current two years.

Legislators who passed the bill last week, believed it provided schools an extra $25,000,000 for a total of $207,000,000. That's what sponsors of the revised bill told them.

rollback. Chuck roast costing 88 cents would drop to 78 cents. And hamburger from 66 cents to 61 cents.

But these rollbacks may not come. The Senate banking committee has approved a bill to ban further rollbacks, including those on beef. The committee majority shared the cattlemen's view that any further price cuts would mean less beef production.

And so cattlemen are edgy, waiting to see which way the thing will turn. It means millions of dollars to them.

Three Different Views

The dispute over price actually boils down to the cost of producing a calf and getting it fattened up for sale. Generally, the answers to the cost question falls into three categories:

(1) The OPS says even with three price rollbacks cattlemen still could make a nice profit on each head of cattle, enough to encourage more production.

(2) Spokesmen for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association -- representing some 9,500 growers -- contend the rollbacks would be ruinous. They say it costs more to produce a calf for the market than the ceiling selling price of around 35 cents a pound for top grades.

(3) Some cattlemen believe they can get along even under the rollbacks -- but they want a policy definitely settled in Washington to wipe out confusion over future operations.

In brief, here are the arguments of these three groups.

(1) The OPS has produced figures based on Department of Agriculture studies in the cattle region designed to show the cattle grower will fare as well under OPS regulation as he normally did in the past.

Profit Possible Claim

This study shows that in 1947--the biggest beef eating year in the nation's history -- the cattle grower realized a profit of $50.75 on a 700-pound animal.

Last year, OPS says, the grower made a profit of $55.72 on the same size animal. And even after three price rollbacks, it is argued, the grower's profit this year would be $42.43 for a 700-pound animal.

OPS says this is a reasonable return on investments, considering all the costs involved in beef production.

(2) Spokesmen for the Cattlemen's Association deride these OPS figures as fanciful and unrealistic.

H. L. Martin of DeKalb, Tex., has given the association a sworn statement that it costs him $48.14 a hundredweight to produce one 400 pound calf.

Martin's figures show that even before the rollback, he stood to lose $52.48 a head on his cattle--and that after the first rollback his loss climbed to $66.58 a head.

Ray W. Willoughby of San Angelo, Tex., president of the association, is a rancher himself and operates 40,000 acres on which there are some 1,400 cattle.

Willoughby says it costs him 30 to 35 cents a pound to produce a 400-pound calf. And he cites other figures to show that one Texas grower stands to lose

June 16 Wedding Was Solemnized In Indiana

Fifty Attend Informal Event At Country Club

The marriage of Miss Ida Mae Carnegie daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lucas, 623 East Paint Street and Mr. Theodore R. Lipscomb son of Mrs. Cora Hosteler of Logansport, Indiana, was solemnized on Saturday, June 16 at 2:30 P. M. in the Wheatland Avenue Methodist Church in Logansport. Baskets of white gladioli, palms and tapers in seven branch candelabra formed the background for the ceremony read by Rev. V. O. Vernon. Preceding the service Mr. Jack Rice organist, presented a short program of nuptial music including "I Love You Truly" and "Always." Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon over tulle.

A Peter Pan collar was featured at the neckline and the fitted bodice had short sleeves with a full skirt. She wore a small off the face white hat with white veiling and she carried a white Bible topped with a single white orchid. Miss Betty Ditt of Rockfield, Indiana, the maid of honor wore a ballerina length gown styled similarly to the bride's and her accessories were pink and poudre blue.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations and blue delphinium.

Mr. W. Richard Lynch of Logansport was best man.

The bride's mother was wearing a dress of aqua sheer with white accessories and the mother of the bridegroom chose an aqua and pink silk print dress with black accessories. Both mothers had corsages of white roses. A reception was held immediately following the wedding at the new home of the bride and groom, and Mrs. Roy Downs of this city, aunt of the bride assisted in the hospitalities. For travelling the new Mrs. Lipscomb wore an aqua and brown suit with brown accessories with a brown orchid pinned at her shoulder. Upon their return they established their home at 712 West Miami Avenue, in Logansport. The bride a graduate of Washington C. H. High School, was employed at the Record-Herald as a linotype operator before going to Logansport where she has been employed at the Pharo-Tribune in the same capacity. Mr. Lipscomb is a graduate of Twelve Mile High School and New York Institute of Photography. He served in the South Pacific during World War II.

He is employed at the Muehlhausen Spring Company and also operates the Lipscomb Photo Studio in Logansport.

Muffed Fly Ball Fatal for Reds

Dodgers Shut Out But Chisox Win

BY JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)
Joe Adcock's muffed fly ball in the ninth enabled the Pittsburgh Pirates to take the series opener last night from the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2.

Hovie Pollet, the former St. Louis southpaw, yielded one single until the seventh inning. His teammates had given him a 2-0 edge in the top of the seventh on three singles merged with a base on balls and force out.

Pollet tossed away that lead in the bottom half. Johnny Wyrostek opened with a single. After Adcock had skied, Ted Kluszewski singled and Red Stalcup double to score Redleg run No. 1. Big Klu limbered across home plate for the second run when Grady Hatton grounded out.

The ninth ruined Harry Perkowski's bid for his third win. Pollet bunted safely over Perkowski's head. Erv Dusak rapped an infield single. Gus Bell then lofted a lazy fly to Adcock and Joe let it fall out of his mitt, Pollet scoring.

TWO RUDE JOLTS in three days have slowed Brooklyn's bid to make a runaway of the National League race.

The latest blow to the Dodgers' plans was struck last night by their arch rivals from across the river, the New York Giants. A sterling three-hit pitching performance by Sal Maglie plus some timely hitting against previously unbeaten Preacher Roe sparked the Giants to a 4-0 triumph. Roe had won ten straight.

It marked the third straight loss for the Dodgers who absorbed two stunning defeats in Pittsburgh last Sunday.

Brooklyn's counterpart in the American League, the pace-setting Chicago White Sox, inaugurated a home stand by vanquishing the Detroit Tigers, 11-3. The win, coupled with Washington's 7-3 victory against New York, increased the White Sox' lead over the Yankees to two games.

Boston's third place Red Sox remained four games off the pace, walloping the Philadelphia Athletics, 13-5. Cleveland kept close to the leaders, nipping the St. Louis Browns, 6-4, in 11 innings.

PHILADELPHIA'S Phillies moved past Boston into fifth place in the National, shutting out the Braves, 7-0. The Chicago Cubs upset third place St. Louis, winning in 10-innings, 7 to 5. Pittsburgh's Hovie Pollet outpitched Cincinnati's Harry Perkowski, 3-2. Rookies Jim Busby and Orestes Minoso cracked three hits each to pace a 14-hit attack by the White Sox against four Detroit pitchers. Busby drove in three runs as did teammate Chico Carrasquel. Randy Gumpert failed to survive a fifth inning Tiger rally and the victory went to Luis Aloma, who held Detroit in check in the last four and two thirds innings.

Luke Easter blasted a home run with one on in the 11th to climax an uphill battle by the Indians. The Browns jumped on Bob Feller for three homers to take a 4-1 lead but the Indians tied the score at 4-4 in the seventh helped by Al Rosen's circuit blow.

Sportsmanship Stressed in Kid Softball

Directors of the city recreation program have set up a point system for those boys who play on the Kid League softball teams. A trophy for the team with the most points will be awarded at the end of the season, according to Harry Townsend and Ron Guinn, co-directors of the recreation program.

For each game that is played there are 10 points awarded, seven points for the winners and three points for the losers.

If a member of the team is absent, then a point is subtracted from the total score of that team. For any act of unsportsmanlike conduct one point will be removed from the team's total points.

In case a player goes on vacation or cannot attend a game, he can find a substitute to play while he is gone without losing points. The sub can't be listed on any other team roster, though, Guinn explained. The substitute must also be in the same age group as the league.

Besides the trophy, which will be presented to the team with the highest score, individuals who have an 85 percent attendance record will go on the trip to Columbus to see the Redbirds play. This includes those boys who substitute during the season.

Sabina Team Wins Easily by 10 to 0

Sabina's VFW softball boys staged a sort of track meet in two innings at Memorial Park Tuesday night as they blanked the team from New Moorefield (near Springfield) by a score of 10 to 0.

The vets staged two 4-run sprees one in the second frame and the other in the fifth, and just coasted along most of the rest of the game.

With the game sewed up early, the 15 players on the VFW squad got in on the fun.

In the last analysis, the visitors really beat themselves by making 11 errors, most of which were factors in the scoring.

No-Hit Game Lost, 4 to 1

Webber French's softball team is still trying to figure out how its pitcher, Anderson, could toss a no-hitter and still lose 4 to 1 to the Welding School Tuesday evening on the Wilson diamond.

Five errors and a few walks gave the Welders one run in the second inning and three more in the third. The Frenchmen collected four hits off the winner, McMullin, but could only push across one run in the third inning.

This loss moves the Frenchmen into a tie with Armco for the first place in the Recreation League. Both teams have won five games and lost one. They both have one game apiece to play in the first round of play.

8-run Spree Wins For Armco Outfit

Armco's softballers went on a scoring spree Tuesday night to swamp the Armbrusters, 12 to 2, in a Recreation League game.

Although the play of both teams in the field was marred by only three official errors, the Armco boys made 10 hits count for 12 runs, largely through alert and aggressive base running.

One big fat inning turned the trick for the Armco outfit -- it scored 8 runs in the wild and woolly rampage they staged in the fourth. They were held scoreless in four innings and were able to score no more than two runs in any other frame.

Fireworks Are Strictly Taboo

Police Chief Long To Enforce Code

"Expecting a busy Fourth of July?" Chief of Police Vaiden Long was asked by a Record-Herald reporter.

"There won't be any noise to speak of in Washington C. H.," the chief replied. He explained that state law makes the Fourth of July a little quieter than it used to be, and not as dangerous.

Fireworks are strictly taboo. That applies both to their being sold at stores and used by the kids. Recently Police Chief Vaiden Long received a letter from State Fire Marshal Harry J. Callan calling on his department to see that section 3904-6 of the General Code of Ohio is enforced.

The section reads in part: "... specifically prohibits sale at retail or the use of any fireworks in Ohio."

An opinion handed down by former Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy was as follows: "... sparklers, snakes in the grass, fountains, skyrockets and other similar devices are classified as fireworks, and as such their sale and use is prohibited."

"Fireworks shall mean and include any combustible or explosive compositions or any substance or combination of substances or article prepared for the purpose of producing a visible or an audible effect by combustion, explosion, deflagration or detonation," Duffy wrote.
